

STANDARD LINE vs MAX PLUS LINE

Customer-friendly comparison of features and functionality | MD14DC Standard Line vs MD14DD Max Plus Line

Choose the level of control that fits your operation. Both lines provide dependable professional refrigeration. The Max Plus Line adds enhanced monitoring, connectivity, alarm integration and calibration functionality for customers who require greater oversight and traceability.

FEATURE / FUNCTION	STANDARD LINE MD14DC	MAX PLUS LINE MD14DD
Professional temperature control	✓ Reliable electronic temperature control for everyday professional storage.	✓ Enhanced electronic control for greater operational oversight.
Calibration support	— Not included	✓ Included Supports professional temperature verification procedures.
External alarm integration	— Not included	✓ Included Can be connected to external monitoring systems.
Volt-free alarm contact	— Not included	✓ Included Supports integration with facility alarm systems.
Bluetooth data logging	Standard monitoring functionality.	✓ Included Enables mobile-app data access and monitoring.
Power-failure alarm	Standard alarm functionality.	✓ Included Immediate power-failure alarm with minimum 12-hour alarm indication.
Low-temperature protection	Standard protection.	✓ Enhanced protection Additional protection against excessively low temperatures.
Alarm monitoring	Visual and acoustic alarm indication.	Enhanced indication Optical and acoustic warnings with persistent screen indication until cleared.
User interface & connectivity	Standard control interface.	Enhanced interface and connectivity LED touch-screen control with Bluetooth and RS485 connectivity.
Door seal maintenance	Standard door sealing system.	Replaceable sealing strip Supports easier long-term maintenance.

STANDARD LINE	MAX PLUS LINE
Reliable, professional temperature-controlled storage with the essential functionality needed for everyday pharmaceutical refrigeration.	Advanced pharmaceutical refrigeration with enhanced monitoring, calibration support, alarm integration, data logging, power-failure protection and connectivity.

THE KEY DIFFERENCE: The Standard Line delivers dependable core refrigeration performance. The Max Plus Line adds a higher level of monitoring, traceability, alarm integration, calibration support and connectivity for operations that require greater control.

Comparison based on the supplied MD14DC Standard Line and MD14DD Max Plus Line documentation. Differences in physical size, capacity and content volume have been intentionally excluded from this comparison.